HIF ANNOUNCED AS NAMING RIGHTS PARTNER OF 2026 PFL FINALS SERIES

HIF Health Insurance has joined the Perth Football League as naming rights partner of the 2026 HIF PFL Finals Series. HIF Health Insurance Oval will host the Finals campaign, culminating with the A Grade Men's and Women's Grand Finals on 19 September.

PFL CEO Andrew Dawe said welcoming HIF to the League was an exciting addition ahead of the Finals Series.

"The Finals Series is a celebration of everything that makes community football special, so we're really pleased to welcome HIF and have their support during such an important time of the year for our clubs," Dawe said.

"Having three weekends of Grand Final football at HIF Health Insurance Oval makes the partnership a particularly natural fit, culminating with our A Grade Men's and Women's Grand Finals on September 19.

"What we're particularly excited about is that this partnership goes beyond what people will see throughout the Finals. HIF is also investing in the future of the Perth Football League by supporting the research that will underpin our Strategic Plan and help us better understand our clubs, participants and the wider community.

"That combination of supporting community football today while helping us plan for its future makes this a really exciting partnership."

As part of the partnership, HIF will support a significant PFL research project designed to establish baseline measures for the League's Strategic Plan.

The research will extend beyond the PFL's existing participant and club network to capture the views of the broader community, providing valuable insights into perceptions of community football and helping guide the League's priorities into the future.

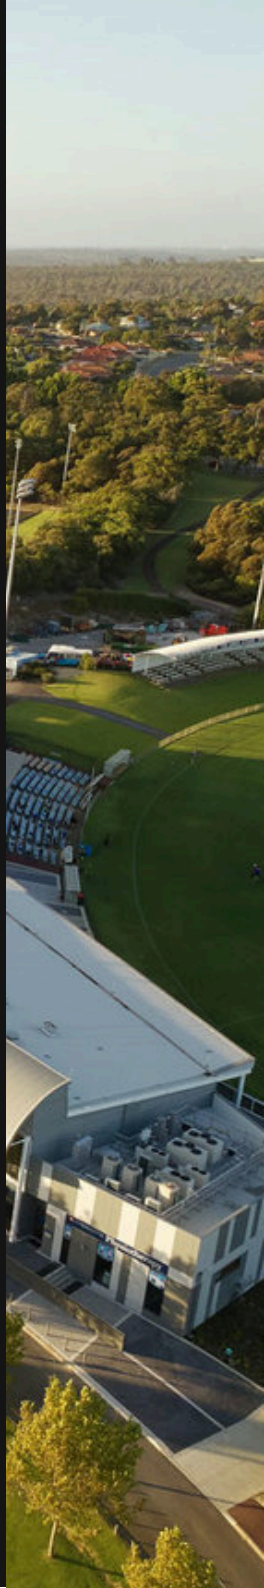

HIF Chief Marketing and Product Officer Kristina Green said the partnership reflects HIF's commitment to supporting healthy, connected communities.

"Community football brings people together and plays an important role in the health and wellbeing of Western Australians. As a WA-based not-for-profit health insurer, we're proud to support the 2026 HIF PFL Finals Series and community football in our home state at HIF Health Insurance Oval."

"We're also pleased to support the PFL's research into the future of community football, helping ensure the game continues to meet the needs of participants and local communities for years to come."

HIF will also have opportunities to connect directly with the PFL community throughout the partnership, including engagement across major events, clubs and the League's digital platforms.

The 2026 HIF PFL Finals Series continue this weekend, with Grand Finals at HIF Health Insurance Oval to be played across September 5, 12 and 19.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, HIF INSURANCE OVAL, 3:00PM

Last Time They Met: Round 11, Scarborough 3.10 (28) defeated Bullcreek Leeming 2.2 (14)

Head-to-Head this year: Scarborough 2; Bullcreek Leeming 0

Scarborough path to the Grand Final: Finished 1st, defeated Kwinana to qualify.

Bullcreek Leeming path to the Grand Final: Finished 4th, defeated Ocean Ridge, Swan Athletic and Kwinana to qualify.

Women's premierships: Scarborough 1; Bullcreek Leeming 1

Paul Burbridge's Scarborough team is one win away from an undefeated season.

Their second semi-final win over Kwinana made it two promotions in three years for the minor premiers, rising from fourth spot last season to qualify for this year's decider.

The former North Beach A Reserves coach, who crossed over this season to take the helm of Scarborough's senior women's side, said his team had no weak links.

"We really have strength across the ground, so selection this week will be tricky. I only really knew 2 or 3 players before coming into the club this year, so it has been good to be able to look at everything with fresh eyes."

"I don't usually get nervous [before games], so I will back our girls in," he said.

On the opposite end of the scale, Bullcreek Leeming has run the gauntlet to qualify for the B Grade decider after finishing fourth, winning three consecutive games to face Scarborough.

Bullcreek Leeming coach Sam Whitaker said even a loss on Saturday would not detract from his side's achievements this year, rising back up to A Grade after last season's relegation.

"We knew we just needed to start playing some really good footy at the right time. Although it would be great to cap off a pretty crazy run, you can't let one game change the way you look back on the year," he said.

Much of the Bombers' journey has been thanks to high-flying 18-year-old forward Jacinta Stevens, who has kicked a competition record 70 goals this season and has dazzled opponents with her strong pack marking and raking left foot.

Whitaker said he knew Stevens would be targeted on Saturday.

"As a team, we need to help her. Teams do go after her at times, so we need to make sure she is supported," he said.

Burbridge was confident his side could find ways to contain the mercurial Bombers forward.

"We will have a Plan A and B in place," he said.

For the record:

- Scarborough have not lost this season, drawing with Kwinana in round 5.
- Bullcreek Leeming have beaten all the other finals sides this year except for Scarborough.

Ones to watch:

Whitaker described wunderkind Stevens as an unbelievable player who loved the game.

"You could be mistaken for thinking she's an ex-AFL player coming back by the way she has dominated this season," he said.

While Stevens has been dominant in attack for the Bombers, Scarborough have their own threats up forward in Chloe Metcalf and Amy Fortescue, the latter slotting five majors in last fortnight's win.

Scarborough will also welcome back state representative Kyra Dalman in a crucial inclusion after she missed the victory against the Knights.

"She is a very good mover and positioner and just smart with the footy," Burbridge said.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, HIF INSURANCE OVAL, 1:00PM

Last Time They Met: Second Semi-Final, University 4.4 (28) defeated North Fremantle 3.1 (19)

Head-to-Head this year: University 3; North Fremantle 0

University path to the Grand Final: Finished 1st, defeated North Fremantle to qualify

North Fremantle path to the Grand Final: Finished 3rd, defeated Trinity Aquinas twice to qualify.

Women's premierships: University 2; North Fremantle 3

It might be the second year running University and North Fremantle will clash in a Women's A Reserves grand finale, but the teams taking the field will be radically different to what they were 12 months ago.

Runners-up last year, University coach David Gilbert has led a reserves side that has dominated the home-and-away season, finishing minor premiers with a percentage of 711.

With their league side also playing in the 2026 HIF PFL Finals Series, Gilbert said he enjoyed having immense depth at his disposal but also relished fostering newer talent at the club.

"Managing players can be a challenge, but we see the benefits of that when there are some girls who are new to footy get to do something incredible, and when there's someone available for you to pick that you wouldn't usually expect they come in and do a job immediately," he said.

"We have played some excellent footy at times throughout the year, so it would mean a lot to the group to get up on Saturday."

Dealing with retirements and injuries after last season's premiership triumph, North Fremantle coach Max Warn said he was grateful his team had taken an unconventional route to the decider.

"It is a newer group this season, the more footy we get to play together, the more the girls get to gel and really connect with each other," he said.

"I feel like we are playing with house money this year...we are grateful to be in the Grand Final again because they are not easy to make, but we know the brand of footy we bring can match it with the best."

For the record:

- University has crossed 100 points five times this season
- North Fremantle are the reigning A Reserve premiers

Ones to watch:

Ashlee Hardisty has slotted 68 goals this season for University, combining in a dominant pairing with fellow forward Esther Cooney.

"[University] have got an incredibly dominant aerial game. I have spoken at length to the girls about it; they throw some different stuff at you," Warn said.

Warn said sister act Jordan and Marian Davis had been valuable inclusions to his new-look Magpies side, describing Jordan as an "electric small forward" and Marian as a lock-down defender.

"The contest is where the game is won or lost in finals, so we will be trying to take advantage of that when we can," Gilbert said.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, GOSNELLS OVAL, 3:00PM

Last Time They Met: Round 11, Bayswater 4.11 (35) defeated Kingsway 0.3 (3)

Head-to-Head this year: Bayswater 1; Kingsway 1

Bayswater path to the Grand Final: Finished 1st, defeated Ballajura to qualify.

Kingsway path to the Grand Final: Finished 2nd, defeated Ballajura and Cockburn Cobras to qualify.

Women's premierships: Bayswater 1; Kingsway 0

Another chapter in one of the PFL's most intriguing developing rivalries will be written on Saturday as Bayswater and Kingsway meet in a decider for the second-year running.

Simon Quayle's Roos side have a score to settle after losing last year's C2 Grand Final to Bayswater.

The Roos are the only team who has challenged the minor premiers all season, downing them by a point in Round 3.

The Blues barged their way into another Grand Final following a 61-point win over Ballajura, picking up where they left off from a home-and-away season that saw them finish three games clear on top.

With their C4 women's team also making a deep run into the 2026 HIF PFL Finals Series, Blues premiership coach Aidan Ridley said the depth of the club's women's program spoke to a culture that had developed over several years.

"Going back-to-back would just be a reward for effort, [we see] winning as a consequence of our hard work," he said.

"We have an unreal spread [of talent], and we even have juniors who are coming through now too."

Speaking on their "healthy" rivalry with Kingsway, Ridley said his Blues were ready for any challenges thrown at them despite going into the game as comfortable favourites.

"There's always going to be shocks and surprises in finals footy, you just need to be prepared for them," he said.

Ones to watch:

Captain Beth Carey has led a Kingsway team that has followed closely behind the pace-setting Bayswater all season.

Josie Byfield slotted three majors in the 12-point preliminary final win over Ballajura and will be important counterattacking force against a Blues side who know how to pile on big scores.

Chloe Sauvier filled injured forward Sophia Bishop's boots in Bayswater's second semi-final win, kicking four goals.

Bishop is set to return for this week's Grand Final, having already slotted 45 majors for the season in just 12 games.

Last Time They Met: Second Semi-Final, Canning Vale defeated Gosnells

Head-to-Head this year: Canning Vale 2; Gosnells 1

Canning Vale path to the Grand Final: Finished 1st, defeated Gosnells to qualify.

Gosnells path to the Grand Final: Finished 3rd, defeated Fremantle C.B.C twice to qualify.

Women's premierships: Canning Vale 0; Gosnells 0

Two proud south of the river clubs will journey up the freeway to face off in this year's C2 Grand Final at Joondalup.

Since taking over as Canning Vale coach, Gerard Gibson has led the Cougars into consecutive finals campaigns, but said there was still a further step for his side to take.

After losing a preliminary final last year, the Cougars started the 2026 season 2-2, but have since won their next 12 games.

"At the start of this year it felt like we had some unfinished business," Gibson said.

"The group really responded to the poor start of the season; they have shown resilience and commitment," he said.

Gibson said a maiden women's premiership could be transformative as the club continued to grow its She Can Play program.

"It would be amazing for our club and the community. Some of our players have been here since the start, through good and lean."

Qualifying after a 2-point win over Fremantle C.B.C, Gosnells playing coach Jessie McDonald said her side's pace would be the key to claiming the title over Canning Vale.

McDonald didn't plan to play this season, but said she was roped in after her team was forced to play without a bench for most of the season.

"I kept saying 'this is my last game' but the girls kept telling me to chuck the boots on," she said. "It's awesome to see how far we have come and how we have bonded together in my first year of coaching."

For the record:

- Both sides searching for maiden women's flag
- Gosnells defeated Fremantle C.B.C by two points in last week's Preliminary Final.

Ones to watch:

McDonald cited teammates Shawnie Pickett, Kyraley Drage and full forward Teleah Crane as being important cogs in the Hawks' machine as they hope to claim the club's maiden women's flag.

Third in last season's league best and fairest, former basketballer Talisha Hansen has been a key once again for the Cougars in the ruck, combining with captain Montana Campbell in the side's midfield.

Veteran forward Bianca Austin has been Canning Vale's focal point in attack with 21 majors and has only been held goalless once this season.

Last Time They Met: Round 16, Yanchep 4.7 (31) defeated Manning 3.3 (21)

Head-to-Head this year: Yanchep 1; Manning 1

Yanchep path to the Grand Final: Finished 1st, defeated Safety Bay to qualify.

Manning path to the Grand Final: Finished 2nd, defeated Safety Bay and Ellenbrook to qualify.

Women's premierships: Yanchep 0; Manning 1

A coveted Yanchep women's flag has never been closer than it will be on Saturday.

Yanchep coach Shane Tweed has been involved with the club's women's program since its inception in 2021 and has overseen their rise to this year's minor premiership, the club's maiden HIF PFL Finals Series campaign.

Tweed said he was confident ahead of the upcoming challenge from opponents Manning.

"It has been a long road of ups and downs [as coach], but this year we came up with a good squad after a strong preseason, a mixture of some good recruits and a strong core of 12-14 players who have been there the whole ride," he said.

Manning coach Sarah Lane said the competition had been "hotter" this season in their quest for back-to-back flags after rising from C4 last season, but that her team's continued success came from a strong sense of friendship and unity.

"I have a team of girls that all love each other and are good mates, who want to go out there and have fun, so we have just gone about it the same way we did last year", she said.

"We don't really go in with the mindset of 'it's win or nothing'."

Lane believed her Rippers side could knock the Red Hawks off again, being the only side to defeat them so far this year.

"If we execute what we have planned, then we should have a good day on the track," she said.

For the record:

- Yanchep's first women's grand final
- Manning Rippers C4 Premiers last year

Ones to watch:

The battle in the centre appears to be the key in this matchup.

Lane described her Rippers midfield, led by captain Amber Goodwin-Wissink, as a "powerhouse".

Goodwin-Wissink was the C4 League Best-and-Fairest last year.

Also backing in his on-ballers, Tweed said former West Perth midfielders Tayah Nicholson and Bree Porrritt had been vital to his side's success this season.

"Our midfield group and connection up forward is key because we like to push our defence far up the ground," he said.

Last Time They Met: Second Semi-Final, Bayswater 1.6 (12) defeated by Koongamia 2.6 (18)

Head-to-Head this year: Koongamia 2; Bayswater 1

Koongamia path to the Grand Final: Finished 3rd, defeated Jandakot and Bayswater to qualify.

Bayswater path to the Grand Final: Finished 1st, defeated Jandakot to qualify.

Women's premierships: Koongamia 1; Bayswater 1

One of the most even competitions in the PFL this season comes to a head on Saturday.

Despite finishing third, Edward Garlett's Koongamia were the first to qualify for the decider, defeating Grand Final opponents, Bayswater, in a tightly contested semi-final.

Garlett told the Perth Footy Podcast in August he had focused on maintaining professional standards across his side this season.

"We have changed as a team since bringing in new players, so [our season has] all been based around fitness. To come away with a lot of victories has been great," he said.

After their thrilling one-point win over Jandakot in last week's preliminary final, Bayswater playing coach Caitlyn Hopkins said kudos needed to be given to everyone involved in the club's women's program.

"Having two teams in the grand final is club history already, but if we both get up I think the celebrations will last all night," she said.

For the record:

- Koongamia going for second premiership in C4
- Bayswater minor premiers and grand finalists in both C1 and C4

Ones to watch:

Hopkins said she did not want to give much away ahead of Saturday's "do-or-die" game but backed her captain and inside midfielder Maggie Biffin to lead their charge.

"Using our leg speed and run on the big ground at Gosnells Oval [will be important], as it is so much larger than our home ground", she said.

Koongamia have been led in attack by Kellie Austin and Shannen Anderson, but Garlett said the Crows' season had been built by developing their squad.

"There's been major improvement across our players this year, we had one or two players who didn't know how to kick a footy at the start of the season," he said.

WHO TO WATCH

D GRADE MEN

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, RICHARD GUELFI RESERVE, 3:00PM

Last Time They Met: Round 10, Fremantle CBC4.6 (30) defeated by North Beach 8.10 (58)

Head-to-Head this year: North Beach 2; Fremantle CBC 1

North Beach path to the Grand Final: Finished 1st. Defeated University

Fremantle CBC path to the Grand Final: Finished 3rd, defeated North Fremantle and University

North Beach and Fremantle CBC will bring plenty of experience into the D Grade decider, with both sides featuring players who have been around community football long enough to understand what Grand Final day demands.

North Beach will also celebrate a major milestone, with club stalwart Craig Hall set to play his 250th game in the red and yellow.

For the record:

- Craig Hall will play his 250th game for North Beach.

Ones to watch:

North Beach

Blake Sawyer: The North Beach vice-captain is a goal-scoring midfielder whose height also makes him a dangerous option when resting deep forward. Sawyer has been a mainstay throughout the season and plays an important role in driving North Beach offensively from the midfield.

Brody and Corey Hinkley: The brothers have provided plenty of physicality in the ruck throughout the season. Brody, another vice-captain, has been a consistent presence for North Beach, while both are renowned for their follow-up work and relentless tackling around the contest.

PJ and Ronan Rose: With older brother Flynn unavailable, PJ and Ronan will carry the Rose family representation into the Grand Final. Both bring their own brand of X-factor, combining class and toughness and playing important roles in North Beach's success this season.

Craig Hall: A North Beach stalwart who will notch his 250th game in the red and yellow on Grand Final day. 'Hally' provides enormous experience and leadership on the wing, while his ability to push deep forward makes him a difficult one-on-one match-up. His running, marking and ability at ground level remain important weapons for the Beach.

Fremantle CBC

Julian Velletri: A tall, strong and influential ruckman who can change games with his presence around the ground. Velletri competes hard, can kick important goals and has developed a habit of throwing himself horizontally for smotherers when least expected. When he gets going, CBC often follows.

Jesse Floyd: Unassuming and extremely reliable in defence, Floyd has an uncanny ability to get a hand into contests he seemingly has no right reaching. His Inspector Gadget-like wingspan has spoiled plenty of opposition opportunities and he rarely gets beaten easily.

Blake Ayton: Mr Reliable. Ayton is a hard runner and consistent performer who gives everything from the opening siren to the last. He also brings plenty of energy and conversation to the group, along with a surprisingly strong singing voice. The only unresolved question may be whether he can convince everyone he is the better Ayton twin.

Angus Montgomery: A strong and dependable centre half-back who has become someone CBC can trust to get the job done each week. Montgomery is versatile enough to be dangerous forward, although his form in defence has made it increasingly difficult for the coaches to move him away from the back half.

D RESERVES MEN

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, RICHARD GUELFI RESERVE, 12:45PM

Last Time They Met: Round 18, University 8.4 (52) defeated Fremantle CBC 7.6 (48)

Head-to-Head this year: University 2; Fremantle CBC 1

Fremantle CBC path to the Grand Final: Finished 1st. Defeated North Beach

University path to the Grand Final: Finished 4th. Defeated North Fremantle then North Beach

There will be no shortage of experience across both teams, with Fremantle CBC and University each bringing players capable of influencing the game across every line.

For CBC, there are significant milestones and plenty of experience within the group, while University will look to its running power, defensive structure and contested work to make its mark on the Grand Final.

For the record:

- University have qualified the hard way from 4th, defeating two higher ranked sides away from home

Ones to watch:

Fremantle CBC

Brett Cooper: One of the first magnets on the coaches' board each week, Cooper will line up for his 200th game in the green and gold. The key defender regularly takes the opposition's biggest forward and has become the heart and soul of the CBC side.

Nick 'Habibi' Iannello: A midfielder capable of winning the football in difficult situations before using his explosive pace to break away. A consistent performer who has regularly featured prominently in PFL best and fairest voting, Iannello could have an even bigger day ahead, with the birth of his first child expected on Grand Final day.

Jacob Yensch: The 2026 co-captain returned to CBC in 2025 after time away and has quickly re-established himself as a leader of the group. A former Colts captain, Yensch brings determination, physicality and plenty of direction around the contest.

Sam Glazbrook: Yensch's fellow co-captain joined CBC in 2024 and immediately became a premiership player. Known as 'Mr Fix-It', Glazbrook can be used down back, forward or through the midfield and provides plenty of quality by foot.

University

Blake Barrow: Don't let the lanky frame fool you. Barrow is one of University's hardest runners and covers enormous territory from the wing. He links through the middle, gets back to support the defence and can push forward to hit the scoreboard.

Finn Linnston: The general across centre half-back, Linnston thrives in one-on-one contests and backs himself whenever the ball is in the air. His leadership and composure make him an important part of University's defensive structure.

Samuel Moyle: A dangerous forward flanker who attacks every contest with intent. Moyle combines football smarts with relentless pressure and can hurt opponents either by hitting the scoreboard himself or creating opportunities for teammates.

Charles Wrigglesworth: An inside midfielder who seems happiest when the contest is at its toughest. Wrigglesworth's willingness to win the hard ball, absorb pressure and keep working makes him an important presence around the stoppages.

D COLTS

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, RICHARD GUELFY RESERVE, 10:30AM

Last Time They Met: Round 16, North Beach 6.2 (38) defeated by University 13.5 (83)

Head-to-Head this year: University 4; North Beach 0

University path to the Grand Final: Finished 2nd. Defeated Fremantle CBC

North Beach path to the Grand Final: Finished 3rd. Defeated Trinity Aquinas then Fremantle CBC

University and North Beach will meet for a fifth time this season when they battle for the inaugural EGT D Colts premiership.

University enter the decider with an unbeaten record against North Beach in 2026, winning all four encounters between the sides. That record will give them confidence, although Grand Final football presents an entirely different challenge.

After finishing second and third respectively, both sides have had to navigate the finals series to earn their place in the season's biggest game.

For the record:

- University have won all four meetings between the teams in 2026.
- The winner will become the inaugural EGT D Colts premier.

Ones to watch:

University

Anthony Princi: The University captain leads from the front with his selfless two-way running, tackling and willingness to put his body on the line. His voice and leadership have been an important part of the side throughout the season.

Caden Hart: An attacking midfielder capable of impacting the game across the ground. Hart moves well through the midfield, finds dangerous positions and has a knack for hitting the scoreboard.

Benji Pritchard: University's big man has played an important role in their midfield strength this season. Pritchard covers the ground well, provides a strong contest at stoppages and can also be sent forward when University need another target.

Max Francis: A centre-bounce bull who thrives on the work that can sometimes go unnoticed. Francis tackles hard, wins contested football and brings a physical presence around the stoppages. North Beach

Riley Peck: A crafty small forward who can fly under the radar before making his presence felt. Peck has strong goal sense and looms as a dangerous player around North Beach's forward line.

Michael Logan: A hard-working centre half-forward with a strong pair of hands. Logan works up and down the ground, provides North Beach with a target and is capable of converting from outside 50.

Nick Hilliard: A dependable full-back who reads the ball well in the air. Hilliard's intercept marking and quality disposal make him an important part of the North Beach defence.

Jeremy Lewis: A hard-working half-forward whose defensive pressure is a feature of his game. Lewis has plenty of speed and can finish on the run from outside 50.
